Christmas 2020

As we enter the Christmas season we are faced with many changes. The Christmas traditions that we love and look forward to, will have to be adapted to the current restrictions as a result of the pandemic. The gatherings will be smaller, and in some cases, cancelled. It will be a Christmas season different from any we have experienced. We learn through life that change is inevitable, but with all the changes we face, we know that God's love for us does not change. Love is shown to us through the Christmas story and that is a great comfort during a time of change. On behalf of the management team I would like to wish you a Merry Christmas and all the best in the New Year. May your hearts be full of thanks for the many blessings that surround us each day and may you have time to connect with those who are nearest and dearest to you.

Director*

A Creative Christmas

As we prepare to celebrate Christ's birth, in the shared awareness that this Christmas season will be vastly different from Christmases past, may we find ourselves braced by the knowledge that, even amidst the many limitations brought on by the Covid virus, if we will actively seek the guidance of the Holy Spirit, God is ready to show us ways and give us opportunities to touch the lives of others with the beauty and reality of Christ's love.

Perhaps this story, as told in Francis Chan's book Crazy Love, will spur you on to your own creative and practical expressions of God's love this Christmas.

The Robynson Family

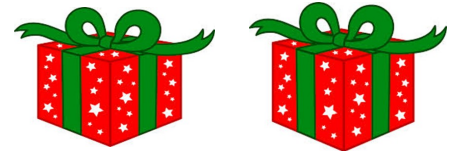

This family of five, with three kids under the age of ten, chooses to celebrate the birth of Christ in a unique way. On Christmas mornings instead of focusing on the presents under the tree, they make pancakes, brew an urn of coffee, and head downtown. Once there, they load the coffee and food into the back of a red wagon. Then, with the eager help of their three-year-old, they pull the wagon around the mostly empty streets in search of homeless folks to offer a warm and filling breakfast on Christmas mornings. All three of the Robynson kids look forward to this time of giving a little bit of tangible love to people who otherwise would have been cold and probably without breakfast. Can you think of a better way to start the holiday that celebrates the God who is Love?

Tabor family may God bless you and make you a blessing this Christmas. And in the words of the Apostle Paul, "May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in him, so that you may overflow with the power of the Holy Spirit." (Romans 15:13)

Thank you to all who took the time to complete the resident satisfaction survey. The findings will be collected and then reported to our Resident and Family Councils where we will seek approval of the proposed direction of the 2021 Quality Improvement Plan.

Reminder to Families:

If you will be bringing gifts of clothing or blankets for your loved one, please clearly identify items so that we can have it labeled before it goes to their room. Thanks for your assistance to help keep everything where it belongs.

When receiving Health Card renewal forms for your loved ones, we are asking you to forward them to Stacey Ely (Nursing Clerk) on the 2nd floor Administrative office at 7 Tabor.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter!
