Preachers Ponderings

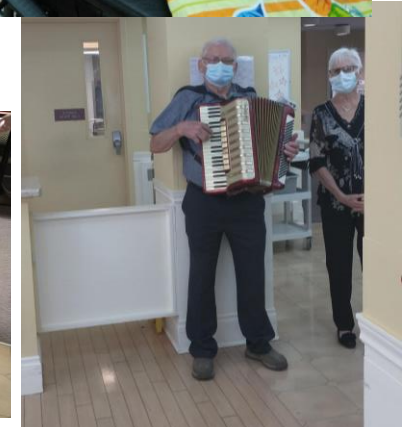

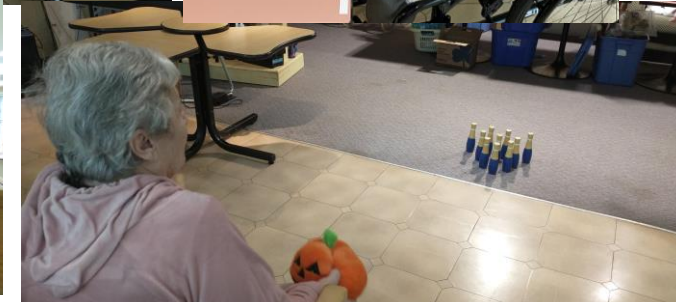

Could someone please tell me where October went? I find it amazing how quickly time is travelling these days especially as the church calendar draws itself to a close. November this year, begins with All Saints Day and ends with the start of Advent. We will have already celebrated All Saints Day (the last chapel of October) but what we look forward to most is Christ the Kind Sunday. On this day we recognize how our entire year (all of time, really) is centered on the person and work of Jesus Christ, the author and perfecter of our faith. The year is ordered to come to this conclusion, that in Christ all things (including time) are held together by him. So, in as much as time is travelling swiftly, we speed on to the point when Christ will return triumphantly, announcing his reign of grace, mercy, and love. And in these anxious days may that give us hope, indeed! ~ Michael Dyck
